About the Conference

The programme provides a mixture of good Bible teaching, Mission Partner input and time for fellowship and fun. There are plenty of opportunities to renew acquaintances, and to make new friends.

There is a separate programme for children.

The conference is for all members of the dental profession and their families. It is regularly attended by over 100 people of all ages, from students to retired dentists.

High Leigh Conference Centre

Situated just north of the M25 with easy road and rail and air links. CDF returns for another year to this excellent centre situated in its own beautiful grounds. For directions and more information about the centre go to www.cct.org.uk

Cancellations

Please notify the Conference Organisers by 10th September 2010. After this date it may not be possible to refund any part of your fees.

Guest Speaker

Andrew Fordyce is serving his fourth year as Parish Priest in South Colchester; the Parish has a mix of challenges including areas of deprivation. Prior to this he was a Curate for 4 years in Portsmouth Diocese, close to where he had lived and taught Comparative Religion to 11-18's. He is married to Cathy, the Editor of 'Three in One' and has been the one standing beside Cathy at previous CDF conferences! He is the proud father of Isobelle and Abigail. Interests include cars and football (although his premiership club has gone into administration) and a bit of cycling.

Clinical Speaker

John Whitworth is a Senior Lecturer at Newcastle Dental School, where he delivers the teaching and clinical services in Endodontics. In 1996, he was Visiting Associate Professor in Endodontics, at the University of Texas. In 2005, he was DDU dental teacher of the year. He supervises Masters and PhD research students and has research interests in local anaesthesia, vital pulp therapy, biomaterials science, health economics and standards of care in practice. For 10 years, he was Deputy Editor-in-Chief of the International Endodontic Journal and is on the Editorial Boards of 'ENDO: Endodontic Practice Today' and 'Endodontic Practice'. He is Endodontic Editor of the Quintessentials of Dentistry textbook series, serves on the Executive Committee of the European Society of Endodontology and Chairs the ESE Education Committee. He is immediate Past-President of the British Endodontic Society.

Children's programme

The children will have their own exciting programme.
A crèche will be provided if required.
